----- SEMESTER PERFORMANCE TASKS -----

How will students demonstrate what they can do with what they know?

READING AND INTERPRETING	PRESENTATIONAL SPEAKING	PRESENTATIONAL WRITING
You are talking with your parents one night at dinner about how school has changed since the 'olden days' when they were students. They start talking about how they used to have to diagram sentences in their English classes. After they explain to you how to diagram sentences in English, you realize that this could help you greatly with complex sentences in your Latin class, so you decide to diagram the Latin sentences.	To persuade students to enroll in Latin, you and some classmates decide to create an infomercial to air with the video announcements in your school. Give an eyewitness account in Latin of your experience at either a gladiatorial fight or a chariot race in Ancient Rome to show off the cool topics you study in Latin class.	Your school is going to post motivational quotations in the hallway each week. Your principal has decided that each class will be responsible for one week during the school year. Your Latin class has decided to use quotes derived from Latin. Research the etymology of your quotes so that you can show their connection to Latin.
In your mythology class you are studying heroes. Since you have already explored this topic in your Latin class you select your favorite mythological hero and write a paper describing this hero and why they are your favorite.	You have been assigned a presentation in your world history class on the Roman empire. Based on your study of Latin you decide to give a short presentation on the mechanics of the Roman aqueducts and their influence on modern water transportation.	As you have learned Latin this year, you realize that many English words have been derived from Latin roots. You decide to create a "family tree" for a Latin root word showing all of the English words that 'stem' from it.
To demonstrate to your classmates how Latin is used today, you decide to translate several of the spells from Harry Potter movies.		While surfing the internet, you come across a site that gives you a virtual tour of ancient Rome. You decide to impress your Latin teacher by creating a travel brochure in Latin about a visit to ancient Rome.
